Not Just a Stay!

In the luxurious lobby of Divan Bodrum, you can embark on a journey through history with antique pieces from Rahmi M. Koç's private collection. Each item carries traces of the past, blending seamlessly with the hotel's modern elegance to create a unique atmosphere. These rare artifacts offer guests not just a stay, but an immersive experience surrounded by history and art. At Divan Bodrum, it is possible to step into the past while enjoying the comfort and luxury of the present.

Maromi

Maromi, bringing the finest flavors of Japanese cuisine to Bodrum, offers guests a unique dining experience in the serene atmosphere of Divan Bodrum, where simplicity and elegance harmoniously blend with nature. This exceptional restaurant, which brings the essence of the Far East to the Aegean coast, features a wide array of signature dishes to suit every palate. Crafted by Chef Kenji Kume, who has lived in Turkey for 20 years, the dishes at Maromi remain faithful to the traditional techniques of Japanese cuisine, while incorporating his own modern touches. The result is a gastronomic feast that promises to delight every guest.

Taş Ev
All day dining room

A warm and inviting living room featuring a large stone fireplace with a fire burning. The room has a high ceiling with exposed wooden beams and a vaulted roof. The walls are a mix of stone and light-colored plaster. Modern wooden armchairs with red cushions are positioned on either side of the fireplace. A wooden mantel holds several decorative objects. To the right, a series of illuminated wooden shelves display various vases and decorative items. The floor is made of light-colored wood, and a small rug is visible in the foreground.

Divan Patisserie

Divan Patisserie continues to sweeten your life, sometimes with just a coffee break,
sometimes with a piece of chocolate,
and sometimes with colorful flavors.
As it has done for 60 years.
